Hans Winkler
Director of the Diplomatic Academy of Vienna

The Diplomatic Academy is a postgraduate professional school, dedicated to preparing talented university and college graduates for international careers and positions of leadership in international organisations and the EU. The main academic areas encompass international relations, political science, international and EU law, economics, history and languages. We equip our students not only with the academic qualifications, but also the intercultural competences, negotiation and management skills which are today the essential and often decisive prerequisites for the successful entry into many international professions.

The faculty of the Diplomatic Academy of Vienna includes recognised academics, professionals and decision-makers from business and finance, the public sector and international organisations. The wide array of teaching methods offered at the DA provide students with a sustainable way of learning, adapted to individual learners and groups, and supported by tutorials.

The Diplomatic Academy's unique teaching philosophy is built on five pillars:

- the highest academic standards
- multidisciplinary training
- the interplay between theory and practice
- full competence in languages
- an optimal student-teacher ratio

This teaching philosophy ensures that students receive a world-class education in international affairs, an endeavour begun by the Empress Maria Theresa when she founded the Oriental Academy in 1754 to train young men for the diplomatic service of the Habsburg monarchy. Out of the Oriental Academy evolved first the Consular Academy and in 1964 the Diplomatic Academy of Vienna, which in 1996 was granted the status of an independent public institution. Our students thus profit from a long academic history, since the Academy is the second oldest of its kind worldwide.

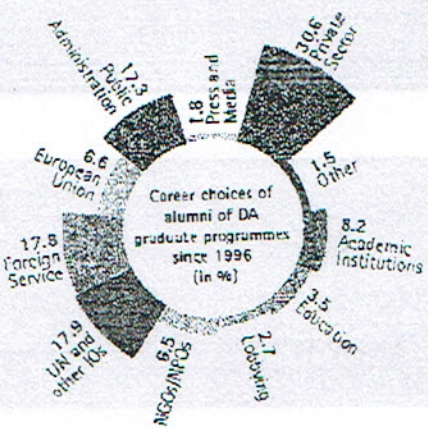
CAREER DEVELOPMENT

CAREER CENTRE The Diplomatic Academy of Vienna helps its students to actively prepare themselves for their chosen international careers. Throughout the academic year, both staff and professors of the Academy offer individual counselling and support in career planning tailored to individual needs and career choices. Targeted events for career planning in the form of workshops, lectures, presentations and discussions allow students to make direct contact with leading personalities from the worlds of diplomacy, politics, business, culture, international organisations and NGOs.

OUR GRADUATES The DA has more than 2,000 alumni of its graduate programmes. They come from more than 115 different countries. Many DA graduates have become diplomats but even more have chosen different careers, in particular in the public administration of their countries, in EU institutions, international organisations and the private sector. Since 1990 the DA Executive Training Programmes have trained more than 1,500 young diplomats and civil service officials from Central, Eastern and Southeastern Europe, as well as from Central Asia, the Caribbean and Pacific Islands. Over the years, many participants in these courses have advanced to top positions in their chosen field. To honour exceptionally successful graduates, in 2010 the DA introduced its Alumni Hall of Fame, into which each year new high achievers are inducted.

CLUB DA The primary function of the Alumni Association of the Diplomatic Academy of Vienna (ClubDA) is to foster and maintain contacts between former students and the Academy. An annual international meeting of DA alumni in Vienna provides great opportunities for networking, as do regional alumni meetings in big cities around the world.
Furthermore, ClubDA offers support to current students and young alumni. Mentors are available to give advice and support to students who are looking for a job. In addition, alumni make job openings known on the Club's website. In this way the large network of DA alumni is able to make a significant contribution to the DA's career services.



This chart is based on the data of 940 alumni. Please note that some of those have changed their career paths over the years so the sum of all mentioned fields of work exceeds 100 per cent.
